MADRID; MOSCOW
HAS BIG SHOW

Millions of workers—from Moscow and Berlin to Tokyo and Singapore—paraded or demonstrated yesterday with fanfare and sometimes disorders in left-wing celebrations of May Day.

Two bombs exploded in Madrid, capital of the Franco regime, wrecking luxury food stores near a poor residential district.

In Trieste, more than 50,000 Yugoslavs marched through streets of the disputed city, shouting "Viva Tito, viva Stalin."

Fascist diehards—fanatical followers of the dead Mussolini—made brief forays against Communist headquarters and Communist—Socialist newspapers in Rome. One group burst into a Rome radio station and, with pointed guns, forced the broadcast of "Giovinezza," their outlawed hymn, from a record they brought with them. Italian workers held assemblies to celebrate labor's gains.

Parade For Six Hours

In Moscow, soldiers and civilians paraded for six hours through Red Square, past Generalissimo Stalin on the reviewing stand, in the nation's greatest peacetime show of strength.

Banners urged Russian workers to boost production.

Young Marshal Konstantin Rokossovsky warned Soviet troops against complacency and declared that "durable peace and security have not yet been established." Stalin's own order of the day asserted that "international reaction" is hatching plans of a new war and called on Soviet armed forces to grow in military skill.

Marching Russians sang the Internationale and 20-man salutes boomed in Moscow, union republic capitals, and "other" cities.

In Tokyo, some 400,000 Japanese celebrated May Day for the first time in 11 years, and Socialist Kanju Kato declared labor might stage a general strike if a single party cabinet was formed by the rightist liberals. Police were alert for fanatics accused of a plot to assassinate Gen. MacArthur.

In New York, thousands of labor union workers—some in uniforms of the nation's armed forces—paraded in the city's first May Day parade in five years.

Death of Student
Blamed On Fumes

Milledgeville, Ga., May 1 (AP)—Carbon monoxide fumes from an unexplained source caused the death of Gordon Bryson, Grand Rapids, Mich., cadet at Georgia Military College, a coroner's jury found today.

The youth was found dead in his room Monday and his roommate, Leon Le Blanc of Tifton, Ga., is still unconscious in a hospital here.

The jury discounted an earlier police theory that the boys may have been poisoned as a result of eating hot dogs bought a short time earlier by Bryson.

ARMED FORCES
UNITY OPPOSEDNavy Secretary Talks
Against Truman's
Merger Proposal

Washington, May 1 (AP)—Secretary of the Navy Forrestal today lambasted anew legislation to merge the armed forces, although praising President Truman's "basic objective" of postwar unification.

Appearing before the Senate naval committee, Forrestal lashed out at what he termed the "Army plan for merger"—a bill aimed to carry out the president's recommendations, which already has been approved by the Senate military committee.

After presenting a formal statement, which was made public, Forrestal was in closed session with the Navy committee for two hours. Chairman Walsh (D-Mass.) told reporters afterward that members peppered the cabinet member with questions.

Instead of abolishing the present war and navy departments with their cabinet posts, Walsh said Forrestal suggested addition of a new cabinet post of "director of common defense," who would act for the president in coordinating necessary relationships between the Secretaries of War, Navy, State, and other agencies.

Walsh said Forrestal declined comment on suggestions for a separate air force department "outside my domain."

President Truman recently rebuked what he termed lobbying by some navy leaders against unification. Later he excluded Forrestal and Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz from these remarks.

Security Council
Of U. N. Tackles
Spanish Question

BY FRANCIS W. CARPENTER
New York, May 1 (AP)—The United Nations Security Council subcommittee investigating Franco Spain plunged into a mass of 461 separate documents on the Spanish question today at its first secret meeting.

A communiqué said most communications urged recognition of the Spanish republican government "while some advocate that a new regime should be established in Spain on the basis of a free democratic election."

Only two telegrams and three letters were indirectly favorable to Franco. They objected to any interference in the internal affairs of Spain.

the left, Kyodo news agency said Emperor Hirohito would ask Liberal Party President Ichiro Hatoyama, one-time Axis sympathizer, to form a new government Friday.

A labor committee voiced its demands to Premier Shidehara himself at the height of quiet May Day celebrations at which a plot to assassinate General MacArthur, uncovered Tuesday, failed to come off.

U. S. military police circulated through the estimated 400,000 celebrants thronging downtown Tokyo and picked up one suspect, but Capt. Michael Frisch, chief of the army's criminal investigation division, said he was "not the man we are looking for."

The conspirator Japanese police and U. S. M. P.'s sought was Hideo Tokayama, former secret policeman and suicide pilot, who plotted to kill MacArthur with grenades during the May Day parade.

One Japanese plotter who tipped off Allied headquarters still was held incommunicado.

Socialist Kanju Kato told Shidehara abruptly at this labor committee conference that an attempt by the rightist Liberals to form a single party cabinet might have grave repercussions.

"The people may rise against it," Kato declared, "and this might take the form of a general strike."

Voices rose angrily at times. The Communists urged Shidehara to support efforts to turn the government over to the Social Democrats. Shidehara, who resigned with his cabinet recently but remains in power in the interim, declined to comment.

NEW CAR PRICE
RAISE ATTACKEDOPA Action Challenged
By UAW; Profitable
"Racket" Alleged

Detroit, May 1 (AP)—The CIO United Auto Workers, through President Walter P. Reuther, today planned a protest against an OPA allowance of "a second round" of automobile price increases.

The OPA Tuesday raised retail prices of General Motors Corp. cars $16 to $60 to compensate for wage increases in the industry. The boost was in addition to an earlier ceiling increase which Reuther said averaged $150 to $250 above the pre-war car price.

"OPA explains that most of the increase reflects engineering changes and improvements," it appears that they (the manufacturers) have found a loophole for turning normal peacetime practice into a profitable racket under government price control."

He contended that the yearly changes of models were customary before the war but that it was not "peacetime practice" to reflect these technical developments in higher prices.

Reuther added that the UAW "challenges" an OPA interpretation that the latest or "second round" increases are required by President Truman's wage-price policy.

ATOMIC TESTS
ARE CONDEMNEDChurch Leaders Demand
That Bomb Experiment
Be Cancelled

Detroit, May 1 (AP)—Terming the proposed Bikini atom bomb test "unnecessary and unwarranted," eleven district supervisors of the Methodist church today demanded cancellation of the experiment.

They addressed their statement to the Rev. John E. Marvin, of Adrian, editor of the church journal, the Michigan Christian Advocate, who responded with an editorial urging members of the church to address protests to Washington.

"We believe the experiment is unnecessary and unwarranted," the superintendents wrote. "We are opposed to this experiment because of its great cost. We believe the information learned for forwarding the use of atomic energy in civilian life will be slight."

"We believe the harm which will be done to international relations and good-will far outweighs any beneficial results for mankind. To the public this atomic experiment appears to be militaristic."

Signers of the statement included the Rev. Edmond H. Babbitt of Grand Rapids, the Rev. Luther E. Butt of Ypsilanti, the Rev. Genesey F. Gorton of Marquette, and the Rev. Leslie J. Nivins of Traverse City.

New York, May 1 (AP)—The tempo of things around the New York City post office stepped up considerably today after a clerk answered the phone and heard (from the Chase National Bank) "what's happened to our $2,000,000?"

A shipment of currency, air mailed to Havana, Cuba, was 24 hours overdue.

New York phoned Miami. The money had left there.

In Coal Shortage

Chicago, May 1 (AP)—A drastic order virtually closing down all after-dark public activities, and limiting supply of electricity to industrial plants to 24 hours per week was issued today by the Illinois Commerce Commission because of rapidly diminishing coal supplies as a result of the nationwide soft coal strike.

The sweeping order affects some 1,300 Illinois communities and was issued by the commission after hearing testimony that utility coal stocks would be exhausted by May 21.

Nine power companies serving Chicago and northern and central Illinois were affected by the order. The order, effective immediately, provided:

1. Curtailment of electricity to industrial users to an aggregate of 24 hours per week during the period Monday through Friday. No current will be supplied industrial plants on Saturday and Sunday.

BIG REDUCTION
IN OCCUPATION
ARMIES ASKEDALLIED EVACUATION OF AUSTRIA AND
ITALY FAVORED

BY JOSEPH DYNAN

Paris, May 1 (AP)—U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes urged the foreign ministers conference today to reduce Allied occupation forces in Austria immediately and to plan simultaneous Allied evacuation of both Italy and Austria, a qualified conference source reported.

Byrnes asked that occupation garrisons be limited to 15,000 troops in each Austrian zone, and that their complete evacuation later coincide with the withdrawal of troops from Italy, this source said.

The proposals were made during a discussion of the Italian peace treaty. Byrnes said that so long as American troops remained in Austria, they would have to be maintained in Italy to protect supply lines.

Tyrol Return Refused

Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov, presiding, ruled that the matter of Austrian occupation could not be discussed in connection with the Italian treaty. Informants reported Molotov said the question should be raised if and when they examine the Austrian settlement. Thus far Russia has opposed United States proposals to add Austrian problems to the conference agenda.

Byrnes and Molotov disagreed when Byrnes proposed a general over-all political-military commission with sub-committees to supervise imposition of the Italian peace treaty terms.

The ministers were reported to have rejected Austria's bid for the return of the South Tyrol, ceded to Italy after the first World War. This was adjudged a major frontier rectification, informants said, and the council of foreign ministers last September had decided against any but minor adjustments in the Austrian frontier.

Ending their first week of work on treaties with Italy, the Balkans and Finland, the foreign ministers were reported ready to take up tomorrow remaining points of difference with regard to the Italian settlement. On Friday it was expected Italian and Yugoslav representatives would be summoned to give their views on the issue of Trieste and the Italo-Yugoslav frontier.

Regulation Revised
To Assure Delivery Of Suits For Men

Washington, May 1 (AP)—OPA today changed a provision of its maximum average price regulation in a move designed to assure delivery of men's suits to retail stores.

It took this action a few hours after clothing industry spokesmen had said in New York that the regulation was blocking shipment of 75 to 80 percent of manufacturers' supply of suits.

OPA's revised order simply gives manufacturers another 30 days—through May 30—to comply with the average price order. Previously the order had required compliance by today.

The extension is being granted, OPA said, "so that there will be no interruption in the flow of seriously needed suits and other men's tailored clothing to retail stores."

French elections are only a month off, Bidault is a leader of one of the three big parties, the popular Republican Movement (MRP), which is battling it out with the Communists and Socialists.

News of the telephone call broke in Paris. Immediately afterward official Washington began speculating whether a close identification of Bidault with the president of the United States, from which France needed economic assistance, would influence French voters—and if so, how. Would they be more or less pro-MRP?

Spy System Costs
British $209,723,368

London, May 1 (AP)—A white paper disclosed today that Britain spent $209,723,368 on its secret service—the British spy system—in four years of war beginning in 1941.

The white paper did not disclose the costs of spying since 1944. The highest annual expense listed was $60,086,572, in 1943.

It was disclosed also that wartime atomic research—disguised as "research into tube alloys" when funds were voted by parliament—cost $6,923,800 in the same four years.

The restrictions, the order said, would continue during "the effective period of the coal strike which began April 1 and for such further period that may elapse until normal deliveries of coal are resumed."

Tojo Claims Japan
Fought 'Righteous'
War For Freedom

BY RUSSELL BRINES

Tokyo, May 1 (AP)—Ex-Premier Hideki Tojo, indicted with other war leaders Monday for "crimes against peace x x x against humanity," insisted from his cell today that Japan had fought a "righteous" war for freedom and equality of nations.

Tojo declared that if in 1941 Japan, "as an independent country," could have taken any other way than war "I would have taken it." He emphasized that he had hoped until the last that the 1941 peace talks in Washington would be successful.

RAILROADS FEEL
COAL SHORTAGECarriers Trim Service;
Lewis Calls Session
Of Policy Makers

Washington, May 1 (AP)—With railroads curtailing service to conserve scarce coal and bituminous strike negotiations in a snarl, John L. Lewis today unexpectedly called the 250-man policy committee of the United Mine Workers to a session here next Tuesday.

Whether this portended some change of strategy by the mine union leader was not disclosed. He carefully refrained from public explanation of the move.

The Association of American Railroads reported that most of the carriers have reduced local freight runs from a daily to a three-weekly basis. Class 1 railroads, it was estimated, have on hand an average coal supply for 26 or 27 days but some have much less. Five railroads, which the association did not name, reported today that they have only a 10-day supply.

Reconversion Director John W. Snyder said "the strike is hurting pretty bad." Testifying before the Senate war investigating committee on surplus property disposal, he said in response to senators' questions that the strike was one of the things which had disrupted an otherwise promising industrial prospect which existed last January.

The Solid Fuels Administration counted up the loss in bituminous coal resulting from the month-old strike of 400,000 miners at $4,967,844 tons. The daily loss, the administration estimated, is 2,187,596 tons.

The soft coal negotiations lasted only two hours today and were recessed until tomorrow morning. Special Mediator Edward F. McGrady said the operators and Lewis "still are debating."

Truman Gets Mixed
In French Politics
After Bidault Chat

BY JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, May 1 (AP)—President Truman held a trans-Atlantic telephone chat with Foreign Minister George Bidault of France today and promptly found himself projected into controversy of both facts and policies—French internal politics.

The White House said the two had merely exchanged greetings. French officials reported that the president had told the foreign minister that prospects were bright for an American loan for his country.

French elections are only a month off, Bidault is a leader of one of the three big parties, the popular Republican Movement (MRP), which is battling it out with the Communists and Socialists.

News of the telephone call broke in Paris. Immediately afterward official Washington began speculating whether a close identification of Bidault with the president of the United States, from which France needed economic assistance, would influence French voters—and if so, how. Butterfat Subsidy
Payments Boosted

Washington, May 1 (AP)—The agriculture department today announced that subsidy payments under the dairy production program for May and June will be 45 cents to 75 cents a hundred for milk and 15 cents a pound for butterfat.

This is 20 cents on milk and five cents on butterfat more than the figures previously announced for the two months.

The action was in line with a directive of Economic Stabilizer Chester Bowles on April 15 that increases be made to meet current, higher costs of milk production.

Japan's wartime premier made these statements—his first specific comments on war issues since his country's capitulation—in an exclusive, written interview through his chief Japanese defense counsel, Ichiro Kiyose.

Writing his answers to 10 questions in clear, bold characters, Tojo admitted that he had opposed Japan's surrender last year and urged continued last-ditch resistance. He denied, however, that he had taken any action forcibly to prevent the Emperor's surrender rescript.

Tojo reiterated the Japanese propaganda line about an Asiatic co-prosperity sphere, and indicated he would base his defense largely on the "righteousness" of Japan's war aims.

"We did not want to invade any oriental countries," he said. "I thought this was a war to emancipate oriental countries from foreign influences and enjoy a co-prosperity sphere of freedom and equality."

Tojo, who tried to kill himself rather than submit to arrest as a war crimes suspect last September, declined to answer this question:

"Do you feel now that it was better that you lived through your suicide attempt?"

He said he was "surprised" when named premier in 1941, although the late Prince Konoye and others said Tojo had engineered the cabinet downfall that placed him in power.

He said he "of course" believed at the outset that Japan would win the war, but declined to express an opinion on how or when Japan had lost.

The inquiry committee's report recommended the immediate immigration of 100,000 Jews into Palestine, and that Palestine should be neither a Jewish nor an Arab state. British policy as outlined in the 1939 white paper has been to permit entry of about 15,000 Jews annually.

Attlee, expressing some misgivings over the immigration recommendation, declared that such large numbers of migrant Jews could not be admitted before "illegal armies have been disbanded and surrender their arms." He asked Jews and Arabs both to disarm.

In Cairo, however, Abdul Rahman Azzam Pasha, secretary general of the Arab League, said his group would "take all measures" against the recommendations, which he said would "encourage elements of terrorism and continual disturbance" and "push the peace-loving Arabs to desperation."

Chance For Russia
Jewish spokesmen, while welcoming with reservations the 100,000 figure, strongly criticized the report as inconsistent and insufficient.

The streets of Palestine's cities, dispatches said, teemed with reinforced troop and police details as Arab leaders predicted the committee's recommendations would plunge the Holy Land into bloody strife.

Jamal Effendi Hussein, acting chairman of the Arab higher committee, said adoption of the recommendations would "drive the entire middle east into the boom of Soviet Russia," because "we will grab at any straw—Russia or anyone."

Arab League representatives also were expected to meet in Cairo. Azzam Pasha, who scheduled a meeting with the ministers of the Arab states, said in an interview that "the reports of the Anglo-American committee did not try to solve the Palestine problem and did not give any details we do not already know."

BRITAIN ASKS

PROTEST; GENERAL STRIKE FEARED

London, May 1 (AP)—Britain bid today for United States military and financial aid to carry out a joint policy in Palestine, as an upsurge of protest over the British-American inquiry committee report threatened to erupt in violence.

Jews and Arabs alike assailed the report, and Jerusalem dispatches said Arabs in Palestine proclaimed a symbolic general strike for Friday in protest, urging neighboring Arab states to join them.

The Arab higher committee sent cables to Washington and London repudiating the report and reiterating demands for an independent Palestine, a dispatch said.

In London, Prime Minister Attlee said Britain wanted to know "to what extent the United States government would be prepared to share the resultant military and financial responsibilities" for administration of Palestine, which the British inherited as a League of Nations mandate.

Terrorism Predicted
Britain wants to be satisfied, he told the house of commons, "that it will not be called upon to implement a policy which would involve it single-handed" in heavy, immediate and long-term commitments." He said the government would "get in touch with the government of the United States as soon as possible."

The inquiry committee's report recommended the immediate immigration of 100,000 Jews into Palestine, and that Palestine should be neither a Jewish nor an Arab state. British policy as outlined in the 1939 white paper has been to permit entry of about 15,000 Jews annually.

HOME BUILDING FREEZE EASED

Plywood Supply Spread Out; Limits Fixed On House Values

Washington, May 1 (AP)—The government clamped up its building controls anew tonight with an order cutting in half the amount of plywood which can be used on a house or apartment.

The Civilian Production Administration ordered the curtailment in order to spread the plywood supply.

The national housing agency took action to permit the building of homes which were halted at early stages by the freeze of non-essential construction on April 13. NHA Administrator Wilson W. Wyatt announced that veterans and servicemen who had purchased home sites prior to the freeze and who had made one or more commitments such as the clearing of land or payment of architects' fees, could get approval to construct a house selling for more than $10,000. The purchase of materials or an obligation under a construction contract similarly would qualify a veteran for approval, as well as priorities help.

Non-veterans who have purchased home sites and made one or more construction commitments also may qualify for approval but only if they owned all or substantially all of the necessary materials before March 26. Non-veterans will not receive priority aid, however, and approval will not be granted if the proposed sales price exceeds $15,000 or the rental $120 a month. Application must be made within 60 days.

Republicans Split Over British Loan; New Coup Planned

BY JACK BELL

Washington, May 1 (AP)—Two western Republicans split over the $3,750,000,000 British loan proposal today while opponents maneuvered for a coup which they hoped would wipe it off the Senate's agenda.

Senator Brooks (R-Ill.) attacked the loan as a "world wide W. P. A. project" that would "lower our American standard of living."

Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) arose a few minutes later to praise it as "an earnest effort to stabilize a great portion of the economy of the world which * * * will advance the cause of humanity and its comforts."

While this seesaw debate was going on, a third westerner, Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.), disclosed a plan to dislodge the loan bill from the Senate calendar and send it to the house as a revenue-raising measure.

Johnson told a reporter that he would make a point of order that, as a revenue measure, the bill must be acted upon first by the House. If he should win in a Senate test on this constitutional question, all of the thousands of words of Senate debate on the measure since April 15 would go down the drain.

Slasher Of Detroit Girl, 7, Sentenced 40 Years To Life

Detroit, May 1 (AP)—Dark, stolid Frank Labaldo awaited transfer today after he was sentenced to from 40 years to life imprisonment for Detroit's "most despicable crime"—the rape-slashing of seven-year-old Rosalie Giganti.

Recorder's Judge Gerald W. Groat, passing sentence on each of two charges of rape and attempted murder, recommended that Labaldo, a 29-year-old grocer, serve the maximum of each sentence, the two to run concurrently.

"This is the most despicable crime ever committed in this city," the court said in passing sentences which he added should serve "as a warning to other molesters of women and children."

The defendant was convicted April 25 by a jury in Judge Groat's court that required only 11 minutes to reach its verdict.

Labaldo, an outwardly impassive as he has been since his arrest a few hours after Rosalie was attacked last Jan. 27, responded to Judge Groat's pre-sentence invitation by stating:

"All I have to say is that I didn't do it."

Rosalie, sent to the store on a Sunday afternoon errand, was raped and her throat slashed. She was then tossed into a trash can.

Physicist Sentenced For Baring British Secrets To Soviets

London, May 1 (AP)—Dr. Alan Nunn May, British physicist, was sentenced today to 10 years in prison after pleading guilty to disclosing official secrets which his attorney said concerned atomic energy and went to the Russians.

May was one of a team of American, Canadian and British scientists who worked on nuclear research in Canada during Allied development of the atomic bomb. His attorney, Gerald Gardiner, told the court May disclosed certain information on atomic energy—but not on the bomb itself—to the Russians.

May was charged with violation of the 1911 official secrets act by imparting "to some person unknown certain information calculated to be or which might be, directly or indirectly useful to an enemy."

The 34-year-old scientist was pale and haggard as he rose in the dock at historic Old Bailey to reverse his former plea of innocence. He looked anxiously at his attorney, then answered firmly, "guilty, My Lord."

May himself did not identify the persons to whom he had given information. His counsel said he gave information to the Russians because he felt that if more people knew about atomic energy, it would be taken more seriously throughout the world.

She was nominated by Mrs. Ruth M. Worrel of New York City, executive secretary of the United Council of Church Women.

CANOE TRIP ON RIVER

Ontonagon—The members of Ontonagon County, Inc., met in the Community hall Thursday evening. It was decided to work out plans to take care of tourists, not only in housing and feeding, but entertainment as well.

It was stated that Life Magazine photographers will make a canoe trip on either the Point or the Ontonagon river. Ontonagon County, Inc., will advocate that the trip be made on the Ontonagon. The decision of Life Magazine as to which river has been selected will be awaited with interest.

Willie Lives in an "Almost" Home

Willie Wells is one of many G.I.'s stationed overseas to keep the Peace. Not to forget them, let me describe a snapshot that he sent.

It's the inside of a house where Willie's quartered . . . except the boys have fixed it up as much as possible to look like a typical American home. They've hung up pictures of their families, cultivated a stray puppy for a house pet.

And the snapshot shows Willie and his buddies sitting by their hearth, drinking friendly American beer and reading the hometown paper. "Almost like being back in Clover Corners," says the caption.

From where I sit, that "almost" packs a lot of meaning. Thousands of our boys are still overseas, trying to make their quarters home-like, even to the pet dog and the friendly glass of beer. Let's not forget to write them often—remind them that home is waiting—and it's not an "almost" home either.

Joe Louis Named In $10,500 Suit For Lawyer Fees

Chicago, May 1 (AP)—Heavyweight boxing champion Joe Louis today was ordered to appear in circuit court June 25 — six days after his title bout with Billy Conn in New York — to answer a suit asking $10,500 for attorney's fees.

The suit, filed by Attorney Bindley C. Cyrus, once attorney for Louis' wife, had been placed on the military calendar pending the boxer's release from the Army. It was reinstated today.

Cyrus claimed the money was due him for services rendered Mrs. Louis in her divorce suit filed in July, 1941. The couple was reconciled a month later and Louis did not pay Cyrus his fee, the suit stated.

William H. Temple, attorney for Louis, told Circuit Judge John Pysalski that Mrs. Louis, who was divorced from the champion last year, had paid Cyrus $3,000 for services in 1941.

Former Bear Goes To Detroit Lions

New York, May 1 (AP)—The Detroit Lions of the National Football League today acquired rights to 215-pound Guard Aldo Forte from the Chicago Bears, with whom Forte played in 1939, 1940 and 1941.

The Bears were given their pick of any one of several Detroit players in exchange for Forte but Owner George Halas of the Bears did not immediately name the player he wanted.

Forte, a product of the University of Montana, was with the 1940 Chicago club that walloped Washington 73 to 0 in the championship playoff.

Now 28 years of age, Forte is associated with a Detroit jewelry firm and told Halas on his return from the Navy three months ago that he could not play with the Bears in 1946. Last season Forte played with the Navy's powerful Fleet City eleven.

Sharp Cut Foreseen In Butter Output

Chicago, May 1 (AP)—Butter production this year will fall below a billion pounds for the first time since 1920 and "up to 80 per cent of production is going into the black market," Owen M. Richards, general manager of the American Dairy Association, said today.

He said that the prospective supply for 1946 would average about seven pounds a person, compared with 18 pounds in normal years.

Richards said butter production currently is only half of normal and there is virtually none in storage.

Maximum butter production always occurs in May and June, he said, when cows are out in pasture and produce more of the cream from which butter is made.

He added: "If this year's 'flush period' butter goes into storage, the shortage will be distributed over a longer time. If it's sold immediately, there won't be a pound in storage after Labor Day."

Nations agency to govern international territories.

The move to involve this country directly in the affairs of the Holy Land came as a swift aftermath of an official Anglo-American committee's recommendations on how to handle Palestine's problems, including a proposal for immediate immigration of 100,000 European Jews.

Prime Minister Clement Attlee told commons that his government, unwilling to "implement a policy that would involve it single handed," wanted to see how far the United States will "be prepared to share the resultant military and financial responsibilities."

Britain's first official reaction thus served notice she would proceed cautiously—on both the immediate and long-range problems of the Holy Land. British leaders have expressed fear of intensifying Arab-Jewish hostility which already has brought outbreaks of violence to the uneasy Near East. In a Congress which has demonstrated its intention to keep foreign military commitments to a security minimum, some lawmakers expressed belief that Britain should turn to the United Nations—rather than this country—for any aid in the way of armed forces.

CITY MAY USE NEW TYPE MAIN

Proposed Construction in Steam Main Extension Less Costly

A comparatively new type of steam main construction, less costly and more efficient than that in use here now, may be introduced in Escanaba this summer when the city begins installation of new mains which will extend steam plant service from South Eighth to Sixth street.

Used during the war years by various municipal plants and for war plants and military installations with great success, the new type construction has a number of distinct advantages, Leonard Ward, superintendent of the steam plant here, said.

Besides the much lower initial cost, the new type installation calls only for materials which can be easily obtained now, and has a higher insulating efficiency and improved water proofing qualities.

Far simpler in construction than the present type mains, Ward said, the new type costs only 60 per cent as much as that in use and can be put in much faster.

The steam mains now in use are encased in two inches of asbestos insulation and run in tunnels of reinforced concrete; their installation costs $17.78 a lineal foot.

In the new type of construction the mains are encased in a solid block of insulating concrete, eliminating the almost unobtainable corrugated sheet iron forms necessary in the other type.

The steam plant chief said that if all the steam main extension already planned and approved by the council is installed this summer that the new type may be used exclusively.

Escanaba Youth In Jail At Manitowoc

Manitowoc, Wis.—A trio of Michigan young people appeared and were fined in Municipal court Tuesday morning following an automobile accident in Manitowoc Rapids Monday, which resulted in the hospitalization of the fourth passenger with a skull injury.

Judge O. T. Bredesen assessed the driver, Willard Nault, 22, of Escanaba, Mich., a fine of $100 and costs or 60 days in jail after the latter pleaded guilty to a charge of drunken driving. Nault will be confined to the county jail until the money is raised.

Albert J. Motto, 21, of Wilson, Mich., and Amanac Depotie, 18, of Carney, Mich., each were fined $10 and costs for drunkenness in a public place. The pair pleaded guilty and paid their fines.

In reprimanding the offenders for their deed, Judge Bredesen attempted to impress upon them the seriousness of the situation. "I hope you realize this is a serious offense," he said. To the driver, he added: "Your driving days in Wisconsin are over."

Meanwhile, the fourth member of the group, Eunice Christian, 17, of Nadeau, Mich., was recovering at Holy Family hospital from an injury which at first was hastily diagnosed as a fractured skull, but later proved to be a slight recurrence of an old injury.

Clothing Recipient In Rome Sends Note To Nahma Resident

Nahma, Mich.—Some months ago Lew Bramer of the Nahma high school faculty gave two suits to the clothing drive sponsored by the U. N. R. R. A. He put a slip of paper on which he had written his name and address in the inside pocket of each coat. Community Relations OUTSTANDING figures in the public relations profession will come here on Friday to address Upper Peninsula manufacturers and newspaper publishers at a community relations clinic, sponsored by the Michigan League of Home Dailies. This will be the fourth in a series of clinics being held in various sections of the state.

Among the speakers will be: Roland S. Neff, manager of public relations of R. G. LeTourneau, Inc.; D. D. McMahon, community relations counsel of Chicago; and A. V. Lund, business manager of the Dixon, Ill. Evening Telegraph.
Public relations is one of the important professions that has developed in recent years to handle some of the knotty problems of a complex industrial age. It has come from the recognition that what concerns industry and labor also concerns the community in which they are located.
Effective public relations is more than press agency, publicity and advertising. It is important roles in the program, of course, but it also includes many other activities directed toward creating a better understanding between management, labor and the public. In the field of employer-employee relations, for instance, the aim is the development of proper attitudes and conditions, preventing in the first place the misunderstandings and dissatisfactions, which might eventually lead to strikes and other serious labor troubles.
Clinics held elsewhere aroused much interest and are reported to have achieved much good. We are confident that the meeting to be held here Friday will point the way to better community relations in the Upper Peninsula.

OPA Cracks Down

THE Green Bay district office of the OPA has filed 30 lawsuits in federal courts against 20 retail slaughterers in 20 Northern Wisconsin counties in an aggressive campaign to stamp out the black market in meat. This is in line with a national enforcement program by the OPA to force a diversion of meat supplies back to legitimate trade channels.
It is noteworthy that these suits are directed against wholesalers, with indications that similar campaign will follow against retailers in the meat black market. According to the Green Bay OPA office, the tremendous black market that has developed in meat may be carried on to some extent, at least, by packers as well as by nefarious fly-by-night interests who come into the meat business only since the shortage of meat products developed.
The return of slaughtering restrictions is the weapon which OPA now has available to provide the maximum control of the meat situation. Only licensed slaughterers are permitted to engage in the wholesale meat trade and only slaughterers who were in business a year ago are eligible for such licenses. The effect of this order is to drive out of business the fly-by-nighters.
Vigorous enforcement of meat controls and hard crackdown on black market operators is an essential step towards returning the available meat supply to legitimate trade channels.

Favor Useful Memorials

THE American Public Works association reports that public opinion polls reveal that war veterans favor the building of useful memorials to honor the heroes who made the supreme sacrifices in the second world conflict.
After previous wars, many communities erected marble shafts, statues and other memorials, which while they express noble sentiments have no utilitarian value. The present trend is toward the use of public funds for playgrounds, swimming pools, community buildings and other facilities. Such living memorials serve a useful purpose in developing a nation of healthy and mentally-alert citizens.
Shortage of materials is delaying the vast public works programs planned by most American communities. The delay can be used to advantage, however, if the time is devoted to careful planning for projects that will bring the most good to the most citizens.

Curbing Inflation

WRITING in one of his farm publications, Senator Capper of Kansas declares that if the government really wants to curb inflation it should cut down on its spending and start paying off the national debt.
Senator Capper points out that the number of federal employees has risen from 933,000 in 1939 to 3,155,000 at present. Their salaries total eight billion dollars annually. He adds that the government has been spending borrowed money for 15 years and as a result the national debt now stands at 275 billion, presenting the constant threat of inflation unless steps are taken to reduce this huge burden.

The senator didn't mention it in this particular magazine article, but another means of stopping inflation would be the production of more goods. Reconversion to peacetime production has been delayed by strikes. Consumers with surplus cash are furiously bidding for scarce goods, patronizing black market operators and paying higher prices. Inflation is easy to start, but it is hard to stop once it gets under way. We have to get back to work.

Generals Demoted

THE U. S. Army has announced the reduction in rank of 38 more officers of general rank in keeping with the reduced size of the army. From a wartime peak of 1541 general officers, all but 660 have been reduced in rank, retired or are on the way to the inactive list.
This is, of course, as it should be. In fact, the reduction in rank is still not space with the shrinkage in the armed service. The ratio of officers to enlisted men is higher now than at any time in the nation's history. It is reasonable to assume, however, that the proper adjustment will be made when the army reaches its assigned strength. It is natural that the enlisted men were more eager to get out of service than the officers, who possessed the greater privileges in military life.

STORING UP TROUBLE

(Gra. Rapids Press)
E. L. Demmon, of the lake states forest experimental station at St. Paul, has called attention to the probable effects of using green lumber in new housing. Noting that unseasoned lumber is going into many new homes and other buildings, he points out that with modern seasoning methods it could be dried in a few weeks.
Wartime requirements virtually exhausted prewar stockpiles of seasoned lumber. Thousands of buildings were constructed of green wood in the war years because of the urgent need for them and also because they were intended only for temporary use. But today's home builders either are investing their savings or signing mortgages for dwellings they hope will last them for many years. Using unseasoned wood, however, means future troubles and expense. Demmon points out that as green lumber shrinks within a building excessive plaster cracks, misshapen doors and windows and other defects result—all of which add up to higher maintenance costs and rapid depreciation.
Taking time to season the lumber properly would not appreciably slow down the construction program; it can be done if full use is made of our present knowledge and facilities. The forest service says that dry kilns are standing idle while green lumber is being shipped across the country exposed to staining, decay and warping. If this is actually the case, builders are being extremely short-sighted, for the ultimate cost to the nation of this "hurry-up" policy will be tremendous.

HOW MUCH ARE THEY WORTH?

(Detroit Free Press)
An analysis of the State's payroll reveals that 66 administrative officials in Michigan are paid annual salaries in excess of those drawn by their superiors who are elected to office and whose pay is therefore fixed by law.
An example cited is the Governor, who draws a salary of $75,000, while at least three of his administrative aides receive more than that. That condition is repeated in other State departments.
This brings up again the recurring question of whether elected public officials are paid commensurate with their duties and obligations. The evidence is this instance would seem to imply that they are not.
The conclusion to be drawn from this analysis should not be that the subordinates are paid too much, but that the elected officers, in most instances, are not paid enough.

Take My Word For it . . . Frank Colby

WHAT IS THE ORIGIN?
(Scrapbook Item)
Q. My class of eighth-graders would like to have you "Colbyize" the word "style." Where did we get the word?—Mrs. H. W.
Answer: Let us go back a number of centuries to the time when the Romans wrote on tablets of wax. Instead of using a pencil or pen, the ancients used an instrument of iron, hardwood, or bone. One end was pointed for writing; the other end was flat and was used for erasing—that is, smoothing the wax so that the tablet could be used over and over again. The instrument was called a "stylus" (more correctly, "stilus").
The word stylus began to take on extended meanings thus: writing done with a stylus; any written composition; the mode or manner in which a composition is written; distinctive or characteristic manner of writing or speaking.
The word stylus entered French and became "style" (pronounced: steel), and the word retained the meanings as in the foregoing paragraph. Then style entered English and was pronounced to rhyme with "tile."
Then, in both French and English, style

Washington—The reckless way in which John L. Lewis is using his absolute power spells disaster for the labor movement—if, indeed, it does not mean disaster for the nation, and the world.

The boss of the mine workers is utterly contemptuous of all claims—social, human, economic. The latest exhibition of contempt is perhaps the most shocking. F. H. Laguardi, director general of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration, appealed to Lewis for coal for countries in desperate need. The reply was a statement by one of Lewis' underlings calling this "publicity stuff."

For the week ending April 20, UNRRA shipped only 27,000 tons of coal as against pledges of 175,000 tons for that week. The supply available to UNRRA is now all but exhausted.

—PLAYS POWER POLITICS—

All his life Lewis has played power politics. In the twenties, membership in his United Mine Workers dropped to a hundred thousand. Lewis fought for adoption of the NRA, which was in the pattern of the corporate state of Fascist Italy.
Under NRA, Lewis built the membership of the miner's union up to 600,000. The membership was practically guaranteed by the government. In the code for the coal industry was the checkoff, providing for deduction of union dues by the employer.

Later when he broke with his old friend, William Green, of the AF of L, calling him a scab, Lewis started on a grandiose march of power. In 1936, he took out of the United Mine Workers treasury a half million dollars to help re-elect President Roosevelt.

His connection with the Communists in the CIO was close. As a power seeker, Lewis has never been fussy about his companions. Indirectly at least, Lewis helped the late William Rhodes Davis when that adventurer in oil was helping the Nazis build up their reserves for war.
In 1938 Lewis went to Mexico for a Pan-American labor congress. At that time he was close to Vicente Lombardo Toledano, head of the Mexico Confederation of Labor. Lewis attended a rally in Mexico City's bull ring, which was hung with red flags for the occasion. He listened to revolutionary speeches by Latin-American leftists.
By 1940 he had switched back to the opposite side. In a fiery broadcast, he supported Wendell Willkie against Roosevelt. The funds for that broadcast are reported to have come from oilman Davis.

—LEWIS HAS ABILITY—

Ever since Lewis' power-seeking path had led him further, to the right. He is back in the AF of L. He is back in the Republican party.
No one denies his ability. It is his extraordinary capacity which makes his despotic power the more terrifying. Without his dramatization and the force of his personality, the development of a mass labor movement in this country would certainly have been much slower.
The peril to organized labor comes in the unbridled use of power, with Lewis as the No. 1 example. There is about as much democracy in his union as there was in the court of the Csars of Russia. The tyranny is absolute. Those who dare to challenge it when the UMWA convenes are taken care of by Goon squads.

Reports from the coal fields today indicate the miners have little or no understanding of what this strike is all about. They have had their orders and so they walk out.
The policy of most unions has been reckless and shortsighted since the war ended. It has been aimed at immediate wage rises, even though it was obvious that this would mean a rise in the general price level and perhaps runaway inflation. Lewis' performance, if only because of its brassness and arrogance, is that last straw.

Labor will not pay the penalty this year nor perhaps even next year, but it is bound to come. The sad thing is that the rank and file, rather than the despotic bosses at the top, will pay the penalty. They will pay for having abdicated their democratic rights to irresponsible leaders.
There is so much merit in the coal miner's case. They should have vacations with pay. They should have improved regulations for safety and health. But to go after these things by the dog-eat-dog method of Lewis is to court ruin.

Technologically, coal is doomed. Oil has been replacing it for the past 20 years. Atomic energy is on tomorrow's horizon. A man out of the stone aged named Lewis is standing across the path.
took on other extended meanings until it finally came to designate "a high standard of manner; the prevailing fashion."
However, if you'll look in your dictionary, French or English, you will find that the primary meaning of "style" is still given as: a stylus for writing on wax or other materials.
But, by a strange quirk, stylus also entered English and retained the original Latin meaning, "a pointed instrument for writing or tracing," which is exactly the primary and literal meaning of the word style!

You see? I keep telling you that English is like that.

"I Say, They Do Things Better in Russia"

Good Morning!

By The Bugler

CITY BEAUTIFUL — A few days ago this column presented comments from a reader on what might be done for the beautification of Escanaba. The column apparently aroused considerable interest among local folks, as indicated by the number of letters received.

It is at this season of the year that home owners (and those who rent) are annually concerned over improving the appearance of the places in which they live. The housewife does her spring housecleaning, and the man of the family is encouraged by his spouse to bend his back in raking the yard, watering lawns, planting flowers, and preparing seed beds.

Besides the clean-up there is the paint-up, and this too is a worthy thing. Often the house that has suffered in appearance and condition because of a coat of paint can be improved enormously with the application of paint. If old siding is worn other and more drastic measures may be necessary. All-in-all, however, folks are most conscious right now of the appearance of their dwellings and its surroundings. Only good can come of it.

NEED DUST LAYER—One who signs himself "A Booster for Escanaba" writes as follows:

"Would you please publish my letter in answer to an article last week in your column about cleaning and painting up to make a bigger and better Escanaba."

"There are few people who don't try to keep their own property in shape. The purpose of my letter is to direct attention to something that other people must have noticed, I mean those who live on unpaved streets in this city."

"What's the matter with applying the same kind of oil for our streets that is used on 18th street south from Eighth avenue to the Golf Club? How about equality on our tax fund spending? Maybe we can start to clean them, and take off our storm windows, and paint later."

A Booster for Escanaba
Not being sure about the street you mention, whether oiled or otherwise treated with dust layer, it is possible you might find assistance from this tip! A gentleman we know collects used crank case oil from service stations and oil-treats the street in front of his home. Or you might circulate a petition, which is less messy. Each spring, as we recall, the city street crew applies a chloride solution to gravel and unsurfaced streets.

DOGS AND TULIPS—Another correspondent who signs himself "Postcard Writer" writes:

"A short time ago you mentioned about improving appearance of homes by planting shrubbery and lawns. Have you planted bulbs, such as tulips, in the fall? And tried making new lawns? If so, you know they are up before May 1."

"To say the least it is most disheartening when you try to dress up a place, and then have packs of dogs digging up the grounds, and tearing it up racing around after cars. A dog is all right as a

10 Years Ago—1936

There were few "April showers" at Escanaba during the past month and as a result the precipitation record for the month was less than one inch, compared with normal of 2.23 inches.

Mr. and Mrs. John Seppanen of Rock are the parents of a son, born Thursday, at St. Francis hospital.

Manistique — Roy Bennett, 22 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Bennett, South Third street, passed away at nine o'clock on Friday afternoon at the family home following a week of illness from pleural pneumonia.

Shiu Fung, popular young Chinese student at Escanaba high school, last night walked off with the district oratory title at the forensics meet at Gladstone high school. Fung's "Plea for China" won favor with all the judges.

20 Years Ago—1926

News dispatches on Friday carried the announcement of the organization of a twenty-five million dollar company by the Kimberly-Clark company of Neenah, Wis., and the New York Times Company of New York, for the construction of a monster hydro-electric plants, pulp and paper mills and the purchase of 4,500 square miles of timber lands in Canada. William Bonifas, of the William Bonifas Lumber Company of this city, one of the officials of the Kimberly-Clark company, is vitally interested in the big Canadian project and yesterday explained many of the details of the transaction.

Det.-it—Within the next ten days the board of education, city of Detroit, will institute their fight against the recently enacted "Bohn Bill." Arthur F. Lederle, assistant corporation counsel, representing the school board, told the Escanaba Press today.

Mischa Elman, noted violinist who appeared in a concert here Friday night, highly praised the workmanship of James Ashland, local barber and violin maker.

pet and kept in his place, which assuredly is not on the flower beds and lawns of other people.

"I think you will find many owners of dogs have no plantings of their own and no consideration for those who do. That dog law should be rigidly enforced."

Postcard Writer

The Bugler is almost in the middle on this subject. While he has only three rather discouraged tulips in his back yard (and would protect them with his life, if necessary) he is also the father of a son who will become the owner of a dog. Being of the firm belief that every boy is entitled to a dog, he is also of the opinion that every dog is entitled to a master.

Perhaps we should permit Police Chief Michael Fienkefer to speak on the legal side of dog law enforcement, as recently reported. The police chief said:

"Dogs must be kept on leashes or otherwise tied up and prevented from running loose during the growing season. The city ordinance goes into effect today (May 1) for the season and remains in effect until Aug. 31."

The police chief added that a dog catcher will begin rounding up stray animals within the next few days.

This question of dogs versus tulips is a perennial affair that will never be settled. Best approach is that both have their place in the community—and both preferably in their own yards.

G. I.—VETERANS SERVICE

Q.—Our son has been in the Army since July, 1945. How could we get him home to help on our farm this summer?

A.—Unless he is eligible to apply for a dependency discharge due to hardship, he will have to serve until he has the required amount of service or number of points.
Q.—I served three years with the Massachusetts State Guard and received an honorable discharge. Would I be entitled to the Massachusetts State bonus or any other veterans' bonus of benefits?

A.—No. To be eligible for the State bonus or other veterans' benefits, it is necessary for an individual to have served a prescribed period of time on active duty with the armed forces.
OF GENERAL INTEREST

Q.—What is the title of the theme music of the photoplay "Dive Bomber"?

A.—It has no title, and is an original, unpublished composition by Max Steiner.

Q.—What grand opera has only three characters?

A.—La Serva Padrona "Pergolesi." Only two of the characters have single parts.

Q.—Please give me detailed instructions about the correct way to wash diapers. Regardless of what method I use, the ones I wash are always stiff and harsh.

A.—The following directions for washing diapers are given in "Infant Care," Children's Bureau, U. S. Dept. of Labor, publication No. 8. used diapers should be washed at least once a day. No diapers should be used a second time before being washed. They should never be left lying about the room nor dried on radiators. Wet diapers should be placed at once in a covered pail and left to soak in cold water until they can be washed. Diapers should be washed in very hot water with plenty of mild, unmedicated soap, with no washing powder or strong soap. They should be rinsed and then boiled 10 to 20 minutes. Much of the irritation of thighs and buttocks, from which babies suffer severely, is caused by not rinsing diapers enough or by not boiling after rinsing. They should always be dried in the sunshine and open air; never over radiators or in the house. If shaken and pulled into shape they need not be ironed.

Q.—Which American League baseball team was called the "Highlanders," many years ago.

A.—It was the nickname for the New York (A. L.) team from 1903 to 1914.

—WHY DID WE O. K. TITO?

Senator Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, another Republican, then expressed indignation over the State Department's recognition of the Yugoslav government of Marshall Tito.
"I am astonished," said Bridges, "at the State Department's apparent sanction of this troublesome totalitarian dictator."

Bynes replied that recognition of a government did not mean "putting our stamp of approval on it." He was taken aback, however, when asked if severing relations with a government did not mean our disapproval. Finally he insisted that the two actions are not to be considered strictly as opposites.

Vandenberg then pressed for an answer as to how the State Department feels about disposition of the Polish armies of General Anders, which fought in Italy with the Allied forces and now don't want to go back to Soviet-dominated Poland. Again Bynes dodged an answer, saying it was up to Congress to determine whether these Polish troops might be granted American citizenship as members of our armed forces, or might be taken in to the American army as a sort of "foreign legion."

Bynes made it plain that the Russians have indicated definite hostility toward American acceptance of these anti-War-saw Poles.

Note—Bynes did not indicate that the State Department is studying the question of what to do with the exiled Poles. However, members of the Military Affairs committee have been discussing with the War Department the idea of using these Polish soldiers to cut our own draft calls. This idea was proposed some months ago by James Cromwell, former U. S. minister to Canada, and the War Department has asked the State Department's advice regarding what the repercussions would be from Russia.

—REPUBLICANS APPOINT DEMOCRATS—
On occasion, supreme court justices have even been selected for the express purpose of curbing incoming opposition parties. For instance, John Marshall was appointed chief justice by an outgoing federalist, John Adams, in order to curb the incoming Democrats under Thomas Jefferson. Unquestionably, also, the hangover G. O. P. majority on the supreme court in the early Roosevelt days went out of its way to curb new deal legislation.
Republican presidents, for the most part, have followed the same rule—though there have been exceptions. Up until 1861, only one Democrat was appointed to the supreme court by an opposition president. He was Samuel Nelson, nominated by President Tyler, a nominal whig, in 1845, just before Polk, a Democrat, was to enter the White House. Tyler had nominated several others to the court, all of them rejected by a Democratic majority in the senate; so finally, he yielded and named a Democrat.
Since 1861, Republican presidents have crossed the party line six times, usually because of special circumstances; but never have Democratic presidents. In 1863, Abraham Lincoln, wanting to win over northern Democrats and create a new northern party, appointed Stephen J. Field of California.
Thirty years later, Benjamin Harrison took the unusual step of appointing Howell Jackson of Tennessee. This was due to the fact that Harrison had been defeated by Grover Cleveland for re-election and a Republican justice could not possibly have been confirmed.
In 1909 and 1910 President Taft appointed two Democrats, one of them Horace Lurton, an intimate friend who had served with him on the 6th Circuit Court of Appeals in Ohio. Taft's other appointment was Joseph R. Lamar, conservative, a Georgia Democrat.
A similar gesture toward the Democrats was made by President Harding, who, during his brief period in the White House, appointed four supreme court justices. One of them was a Democrat, Pierce Butler of Minnesota, an extreme conservative reared under the influence of the U. S. steel corporation. He voted with the Republicans far more than the Democrats.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—It has just leaked out that Secretary of State Jimmy Byrnes held an important and very hush-hush meeting with the Senate Foreign Relations committee just before he took off for Paris.

Byrnes was there to prepare the senators for the possibility that the Paris conference might be a dismal failure. As a result, several senators got the impression that Jimmy was going to Paris in a defeatist frame of mind. The embarrassing questions they asked probably didn't make him feel any happier.
Byrnes emphasized the importance of getting peace treaties signed as soon as possible, using Italy and the dangerous Trieste impasse as an example to prove the urgency of early settlement. The Russians, he added, however, are holding back.

He also told the senators about the Polish loan, justifying it as a possible lever to help win a free election in Poland. Here Senator Arthur Vandenberg, Michigan Republican, who represents one of the biggest Polish blocs in the U. S. A., stepped in with some needling questions.

Specifically, Vandenberg wanted to know whether Byrnes believed a free election would be at all possible under Russian domination in Poland. Byrnes replied—with no great conviction in his voice—that "any effort toward a free election is a step forward."

WASTE PAPER PICKUP SAT'Y

Boy Scouts Will Assist City In Salvage Collection

All residents of Escanaba and business places are urged to have their waste paper ready for the collection by the Boy Scouts Saturday morning. Collection will begin at 8:30 a. m., but if weather is not permitting, collection will be postponed one week.

The collection will be city-wide, with the city of Escanaba assisting in the drive. The entire city has been divided into zones with a Scout troop serving each zone. All paper collected will be loaded in cars on the E. & L. S. railroad tracks. Funds derived from the paper will be used by the various units for Scouting equipment and expenses for the summer Scout camp.

In cooperation with the local collection, residents and business places are urged to have their waste paper in boxes or securely tied bundles, and not too large in size, in order that they may be handled readily by the Scouts. The collection committee asks that the paper be placed on the curb where it can be seen before 8:30 a. m. on Saturday morning. In regards to the business places on Ludington street, if the paper is placed in the alley directly behind the place of business, it will be picked up there, rather than on the main street.

The zoning of the city is as follows: zone one—from South Tenth street to Lake Shore Drive and from Ludington to Seventh avenue south, collection by Troop 455; zone two—from South 14th street to South Tenth street and from Ludington to Seventh avenue south, collection by Troop 444; zone three—from municipal dock to US-41 and from C. & N. W. tracks to Ludington, collection by Troops 407 and 499; zone four—M-35 + South 14th street and from Ludington to Fifth avenue south, collection by Troop 540;

Council Will Study 1946-47 Budget At Tonight's Meeting

First reading of the proposed city budget for the fiscal year 1946-47 will be held at the regular meeting of the city council this evening in the council chambers of the city hall.

With $26,000 included to pay for the employee pension plan for the coming year and for pay raises to city employees which have been approved, the budget will be substantially higher than any during the war years.

Also on the council's agenda tonight are: hearing of objections to street change in the first block of North 15th street because of plans for building a swimming pool in the junior high school building; consideration of agreement with Mrs. S. M. Matthews regarding payment of assessments on her lots in Block 12, City Center Addition No. 3 (the assessments will be for the construction of sanitary sewers which property owners there have requested).

Council will also consider bids received on property the city has offered for sale and give further consideration to a request to construct tourist cabins a block north of the intersection of Lake Shore Drive and Highway M-35.

A housing commission will also be appointed tonight by the council and City Manager A. V. Aronson will present figures on the cost of extending sanitary sewers to Block 12 of City Center Addition No. 3.

Court Of Honor Held In Garden

The first Court of Honor of Troop 425 of Garden since its organizing in late February, was held last Tuesday evening, before a large group of interested citizens of Garden.

Eight Boy Scouts received recognition for accomplishments during the past months. They were Warren Faubert, John Guertin, Wayne Farley, Jim LaCost, Dwain Valiquette and Gerald Tatrow, who received their second class awards. Walter Sopko and Bill Ansell received awards as tenderfoot Scouts, having joined the troop only recently.

Awards were presented to second class Scout by Al Hescott of Nahma, who congratulated the Scouts on their achievements. Tenderfoot awards were presented by Scoutmaster Kenneth Ralph.

Following the ceremony of the court, closing remarks were made by Committeeman Ed Lamott of Garden, who charged the Scouts with their responsibilities and urged that close cooperation be given by the community of Garden in furthering the Scouting movement, which to this date has gained great consideration.

Troop 425 has grown in membership since it was organized; starting out with four Scouts it now has a membership of ten. Troop meetings have been held regularly. Great anticipation is being shown by the Scouts toward their summer camp at Red Buck. Committeemen in attendance at the Court of Honor were: Gene Stewart, Fred Tebo and Roland Boudreau. Outside guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Al Hescott and Mrs. Herbert Blowers, Scouting personnel from Nahma.

National Biscuit Has Pension Plan

George L. Chaudoin, local acting sales manager of National Biscuit Company announced today that all employees of the company in Escanaba, will share in the benefits of a comprehensive pension plan, which will be put into operation May 1, 1946. Nabisco employees here are eligible to participate in the plan along with more than 28,000 employees and officers of the company and its Canadian subsidiaries.

Three major features of the Nabisco plan were outlined at the company's annual stockholders meeting by George H. Coppers, president. The company will stand the entire expense, employees are given full credit for all years of continuous service with the company, and pensions will be based on the last ten years of service prior to retirement, which generally speaking are the employees' years of greatest earnings. The plan makes retirement compulsory at age 65, with a credit of 1 per cent for each year of continuous service.

Iva Kitchell
To Dance Here
Monday Night

Iva Kitchell, the dance humorist, will appear in a Town Hall recital at the Wm. W. Oliver auditorium, 8:15 o'clock Monday evening, the fifth number in the 1946 series. The Town Hall season will close Wednesday night, May 8, when the string ensemble of the Chicago Symphony orchestra will play here while on tour of Wisconsin and the Upper Peninsula.

Iva Kitchell's pantomimic gifts are rare and ribtickling. With accurate and deft humor she satirizes in dance and pantomime a motley collection of persons familiar to all, from the Fuller Brush salesman to a chorus girl, from the prima ballerina to the brash young lady at the movies. She has observed folks thoughtfully and has translated their foolish and lovable characteristics into dance pantomimes of definite appeal to her audience.

Last season following her performance at Atwood Hall, Nancy Burcoat said in her column in the Worcester Sunday Telegram, "When I first read the Fine Arts program and saw the adjectives applied to Iva Kitchell, dance humorist, who came to Atwood Hall last Tuesday night, frankly I wondered if the press agents were not dealing in superlatives too hard for anyone to live up to. They weren't. She was delightful, incomparable, inimitable and indefatigable indeed."

Election Body To Rule On Candidacy Of Roy A. Jensen

The alleged failure of Roy A. Jensen of Bay Shore Road, Escanaba, Republican candidate for state representative in the June 18 primary, to file an affidavit of identification within the required time, may not permit his name to appear on the ballot, according to County Clerk J. Theodore Ohlen.

The county clerk yesterday said that the question is to be decided by the county election commission, composed of the clerk, treasurer and probate judge.

Jensen and other primary candidates had their nominating petitions filed by the April 23 deadline. Jensen then left for Chicago to attend a meeting of the National Fisheries Institute.

The law requires that an affidavit of identification be filed by the candidate not less than three days following the date of filing the petitions. A notarized affidavit was received at the office of the county clerk, from Jensen, on April 27, one day later than the legal deadline.

USES Institutes New Aid To Vets Seeking Work In Delta County

More and more skilled and semi-skilled labor is becoming available in Delta county with the increased number of World War II veterans returning to their homes here and in order to cope with the greater unemployment problem, the U. S. Employment Service office here is inaugurating a new "Help a Vet Find a Job" feature.

The USES will select from its files each week two applicants and advertise their qualifications, as a possible aid in providing these veterans with better job opportunities.

Through March 31, 1946, Delta county had a total of 3,802 inductees in the armed forces; of this number some 2,500 have been discharged and are at work in the county or elsewhere, attending school or seeking work in this area.

Many of these veterans are either skilled or semi-skilled in a variety of fields and have excellent work histories.

The first applicant this week is a married man, 26 years of age, and was a pilot in the AAF. He had a total of 24 months service, and is interested in work in this community as an engineering aid or draftsman. He has had a total of three years of college work towards a degree in civil engineering, and his scholastic courses included college algebra, physics, trigonometry and calculus. Prior to his army service, he had approximately ten months work in a large construction firm as a surveyor.

Applicant "B" is a married man, 24 years of age, and would like work in this community as a bulldozer operator. He had over 32 months in the U. S. Navy, and was discharged as a motor machinist, first class. While in service, he had experience in a construction battalion, and worked as a bulldozer operator along with all other types of heavy equipment. He has had experience in Diesel mechanics, and is fully qualified in the maintenance and repair of Diesel generators. Prior to his service in the navy, he worked for two years as a truck driver and bulldozer operator with a construction firm.

Miss Marie Lauzon, daughter of
Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lauzon, 1523
Dakota avenue, Gladstone, and Victor Novak, son of Mr. and Mrs.
James Novak, Ensign, were united in marriage Saturday at 8 o'clock in All Saints' Catholic church with the Rev. Fr. Joseph Schaul celebrant at the nuptial mass.

The traditional wedding marches were played on the organ as processional and recessional by Mrs. C. A. LaFave, organist. At the offertory Mrs. Elmer Vander-bent and Mrs. LaFave sang "Regina Coeli" and Schubert's Ave
Maria was played at the communion.

Attending the couple were Mrs.
Willard Soricks, Detroit and Mrs.
Rosal Valiquette, sisters of the bride, and Rudolph Novak and Joseph Wolfe, brother and close friend of the groom.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was dressed in white lace and her fingertip veil was fastened with orange blossoms. Her only jewelry was a diamond necklace, a gift of the bridegroom. She carried a bouquet of white lilies.

Her attendants wore gowns of blue with finger-tip veils and they carried colonial bouquets.

The bride's mother wore a suit of black with black and white accessories while the groom's mother wore a black print.

A wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents and a wedding dinner and supper were served at the home of the groom's parents.

The couple left later on a wedding trip. For her going away outfit the bride chose a blue suit with white accessories.

The couple will make their home in Detroit.

NEW INDUSTRY
IN PRODUCTION

Manufacture Ornamental
Wood Fence Supplies
At Fair Grounds

The production of finished ornamental wood fence supplies has been underway for the past 10 days at the Akinmatic Industries plant at the fair grounds in Manistique, and the production of prefabricated homes of turned, finished and interlocking logs will get underway before the end of the season, L. C. Akin, company president, said yesterday.

Akinmatic Industries six months ago leased buildings at the Schoolcraft county fair grounds for the establishment of this business. The buildings have been unused for a number of years.

Akin said that so far only a skeleton crew is employed and that the crew will be enlarged to 25 or 30 men before the end of the summer. Manistique was chosen as the site for the industry at the invitation of some of the business men, and because it is centrally located to a supply of raw materials, and for the shipping of the finished products.

The industry will produce 12 styles of ornamental wood posts, turned pickets, and a fence rail which replaces the use of two by fours in fencing, now restricted by the government. Special machines developed by Akin turn and finish all of the posts and rails and pickets, so that a finished product results. One machine has a capacity of turning 100 posts per hour.

The former administration building at the fair grounds, which has 30,000 square feet of floor space, is the main production building. Two smaller buildings are used for the machine shop and office. Akinmatic Industries also have branches at Detroit and Lebanon, Tenn., and the Detroit machine shop is to be moved to Manistique, Akin said. Manistique is planned as the center for the industry, he said.

An estimated one-half million fence posts alone will be handled by the company at Manistique in 1947, Akin said. The demand is good for logs and they expect to use many of them also. Fifty cords of pulpwood have been purchased for experimentation in the utilization of that material as well.

Akin said that 200 acres of timber stump from the government in the Seney refuge area, and will be logged this winter. This is not expected to supply more than 50 per cent of the industry's requirements, however.

The prefabricated houses described by Akin as soon to be in production will be completely finished inside and out. The windows and doors will be styled to harmonize with the turned and rounded logs.

Akin said that he will move his family, including Mrs. Akin and their two children, Carl, 10, and Betty, 9, to Manistique when a dwelling is available. One of the first pre-fabricated houses will be erected at Indian Lake where the Akins will make their home.

Freckles And His Friends

Charles Eckberg Came To
Manistique In June, 1880

Sixty-six years is quite a chunk out of any man's life, but Charles Eckberg, of 220 Oak street, has seen many more than that, because he passed his eighty-fourth milestone Tuesday. The sixty-six years represent the number of years he has spent in Manistique—a span of time that definitely establishes him as the city's oldest citizen in length of residence and possibly in years.

Mr. Eckberg was in a reminiscent mood when he, his children and grandchildren gathered at his home Tuesday to celebrate his birthday anniversary.

It was on June 29, 1880 that he landed, by steamer, in Manistique. He was 18 years old and had recently completed his apprenticeship to the shoemaker's trade in Copenhagen, Denmark. He had been born in Skona, Sweden, but his parents had moved from that country when he was a child of 10. Manistique wasn't much of a town then. But one saw mill, a waterpower mill, was in operation. But there was plenty to do. Wages then were $1.25 per day, which was considered a fairly good wage for a twelve hour day.

But when things tightened up in the fall, Mr. Eckberg decided he wanted to go to Chicago, where he was told unusually high wages prevailed. He walked to Fayette, taking a lake shore trail. From Fayette he went by boat to Escanaba and then walked from Escanaba to Marinette. At Marinette he was able to work for his passage to Chicago, where he immediately found work with a mason at $1.75 a day! Those were, indeed, top wages for common labor at that time.

He returned to Manistique in the spring, following his trade which has been his vocation with very slight interruptions ever since.

Talking about wages, he said that there were certain periods when able bodied men who were not tied down to their regular vocations, struck it rich. That was when the lumber boats arrived and had to be loaded in a hurry. Fifty cents per hour was the going wage for this work and those five and six dollar checks were big as "cart wheels," he avers.

Among the firsts that old timers like to lay claim to, Mr. Eckberg states that his family owned the first baby buggy in town. He also believes that his was the first hard coal heater to be put to use in Manistique. In spite of the thick forests and the thousands of tons

BEARS' LINEUP TAKING SHAPE

Escanaba Team Looking Sharp For Season's Opener

Manager John Schwalbach flashed a bright smile Tuesday and Wednesday nights as warm weather arrived and the infield problems with his Escanaba Bears' baseball lineup began to disappear. The cold weather of the early training season hampered the Escanaba club considerably but the arrival of rising temperatures coincided with a sharp improvement in the prospects for the Escanaba Bears who will open their NWM league season here Sunday with Channing.

Toddles Flath will handle the catching assignment for the Bears Sunday with Thorin or Jerome Deloria on first base. Keith Morin will be at second. Jungles at shortstop and Gardner at third. Jack Beck, a righthander, or Jim Fitzpatrick, a southpaw, will get the pitching assignment.

Barney McGovern has nailed down the left field position. If Fitzpatrick is not slated for mound duty, he will play an outfield position as his batting punch is vitally needed by the club. Kip Derouin is the likely starter at the other outfield position. If Thorin Escanaba sport fans who are genuinely interested in returning baseball to its proper place in the local sports program can put in some good looks in that direction by offering more than lip service to the Escanaba Bears baseball club. The Escanaba team will open its Northern Wisconsin Michigan league schedule here next Sunday at the city diamond, with the potent Channing Railroaders providing the opposition. The game is a booster affair with a buck admission to raise the initial funds required to finance the club.

An advance ticket sale is being promoted to bring out the largest crowd possible for the opening game. Fans who are not contacted personally by solicitors can purchase tickets at Gust Asp's. Also is chosen for the first base job, Deloria probably will draw an outfield assignment for a substantial part of the game, at least.

Manager Schwalbach is anxious to use as many candidates as possible in the opening game against the Channing Railroaders in order to get an accurate line on the comparative talents of the boys.

The Bears' infield appeared sharp in the workouts Tuesday and Wednesday nights.

additional solicitors are needed to make an effective canvass and any ball fans who would like to offer their service to this cause are invited to call the Daily Press sports desk. Funds are needed for bats, baseballs, catcher's and umpire's protective equipment and for traveling expenses to out of town games.

The Escanaba Bears won't win the NWM league championship. Nobody expects them to do so. Baseball is just on the first step of its revival in this community and some of the other ball clubs in the league obviously are more talented. The important thing is that Escanaba has an entry in the peninsula's top baseball circuit and it will be a hustling ball club that should give a good account of itself. The club certainly deserves the generous support of the community.

The New York Yankees are trying desperately to acquire some topnotch hurlers but the other clubs in the league won't listen to offers from the New Yorkers. The rival ball clubs know that given some better pitching, the Yanks would win the pennant in a breeze. The New York club is dangling some outstanding infield talent as bait in a trade for pitchers. Some of the rival clubs need infielders but don't dare take the chance of packing the Yankee lineup with top rate pitchers.

The Detroit Tigers missed a bet financially when they booked only five early season games at Briggs Stadium. The attendance at those five games was terrific. In September the Tigers will play 22 games at Briggs Stadium. League officials wanted Detroit to ease up on its September home schedule and to book more games in Detroit for April, when fan interest always is highest. It will work out alright, of course, if the Tigers are in the thick of the pennant race down the home stretch, and that's the gamble they are taking.

Prices of the tickets are $10, $20, $50 and $100 for ringside seats. All of the some 85,000 seats in Yankee Stadium will be reserved for the bout.

LAPSES COSTLY FOR CHAMPIONS

Nine Boston Batters Go To Plate In First And Second Innings

Boston, May 1 (AP)—The Red Sox romped to their sixth consecutive victory today, routing the Tigers 13-1 as the world champions displayed probably their most ragged game of the season. Delta Dave Ferriss gave the Tigers but four hits in winning his second game without a defeat. The Sox went on two merrily-go-rounds, nine men going to the plate in both the first and second innings.

George Metkovich started things off with a running bunt which he beat out for a hit. That hit was the first of four Metkovich made for a perfect day at bat.

Three more hits, including a double by Ted Williams, a walk, and an outfield out gave the Sox four runs to overcome a one run lead the Tigers had at the time. Eddie Lake walked to open the game, went to third on a single by Eddie Mayo and scored on a fielder's choice.

In the second inning the Hose made three more runs without getting a hit. With three men on bases after two walks and an error, starting pitcher Al Benton grabbed York's boulder but threw wide to Birdie Tebbets.

By the time Tebbets recovered the ball and the Tigers finished throwing it around the three Sox runs were home.

The eighth Sox run came in the third when Metkovich poked a long hit to right center and made third by a head first slide. He scored on a fly out.

In the sixth Dom DiMaggio belted his second homer of the season, a long clout which supports the screen atop the left field wall.

Only the inning before, Eddie Lake had bashed a ball near the horns in left field. That ball also bounced back onto the field. The base umpires waved Lake home but Umpire-in-chief Bill Summers ruled the ball had hit the fence and hence the Tiger shortstop was entitled only to go as far as second.

The Sox tallied twice more in both the seventh and eighth to run the count to 13.

The Tigers committed three errors afield but their terrific series of lapses as they threw the ball around damaged their cause far more than their mechanical errors.

New York, May 1 (AP)—The New York Yankees reacted in healthy fashion after their no-hit experience yesterday, making nine hits today against Cleveland pitching to win 6-3 for the veteran Red Ruffing, who was making the initial start of his 21st major league season.

The old master went the full distance for a four hitter, and the 26th victory of his long career. Tommy Henrich batted in four runs on Ruffing's behalf, with a single and his second homer of the season.

GOO CUTS DOWN DERBY ENTRIES

BY SID FEDER

Louisville, Ky., May 1 (AP)—Pint-sized In Earnest, a horse the Blue Grass liked best, was taken out of Saturday's Kentucky Derby today, and unless the chocolate pudding goo soon disappears from the Derby race track, there will be even more scratches from the Run for the Roses.

Owner Warren Wright, the Chicago baking powder man, and Trainer Ben Jones, the Missouri magician of the race track, went into a huddle late today and decided to withdraw the tiny speedster, who can make it so tough for the big fellows when he's right that the smart-money winter books had him among the top half dozen glamour boys in the Run for the Roses.

They eliminated him because of his disappointing seventh in yesterday's Derby trial which indicated to Train Ben's sharp eye the little giant-killer had "tailed off," or passed his peak in training.

This left just 16 surviving steps still more or less sure of being on hand for the big heat, unless you count an ambling animal named Kendor, whose latest looping was a neat, but not gaudy, last place finish in the Blue Grass Stakes last week.

Not even all the 16 have their tickets yet. In fact, Trainer Art Brend said flatly his hope, the Canadian owned Wee Admiral, would not go to the post if it comes up mud. And, with the weather man pleasantly predicting off-and-on showers most of the rest of the week, it seemed likely the Churchill Downs strip still would be a large bowl of mush on Derby Day.

"The horse is losing weight," Jones explained, and tailing off and he's not up to a rough mile and a quarter run like the Derby." The definite decision eliminated plain Ben's chances of saddling his fourth Derby winner.

Trainer of Lawrin in 1938, Whirlaway in '41 and Pensive two years ago, a win this time would have moved the Missouri magician of the race track up even with Derby Dick Thompson's all-time mark in the record book.

Dodgers Drop Vet Pitcher Curt Davis

Chicago, May 1 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers gave veteran pitcher Curt Davis his outright release today.

The 40-year old Davis, who came into the National League with the Philadelphia Phillies in 1934, also played with the Chicago Cubs and St. Louis Cardinals in addition to the Dodgers.

Davis broke even in 20 decisions last season to bring his major league lifetime record to 159 games won against 131 lost. He enjoyed his best year in 1939 winning 22 games and losing 16. He made only one appearance this season—against the New York Giants—and was belted for three runs in two innings.

Pryal, Sundquist Meet In Finals Of Badminton Tourney

Dick Pryal and Wayne Sundquist, both ninth graders, will meet today in the finals of the junior high school badminton tournament.

No-Hit No-Run Job Good In Any League

BY GAYLE TALBOT

New York, May 1 (AP)—Now that it has become difficult to visit a ball park without running into a no-hit, no-run game, the question naturally arises, "How good a trick is it, anyway?"

The answer is that a no-hitter still is the supreme event of baseball, even though Ed Head of the Brooklyn Dodgers and Bob Feller of Cleveland have somewhat flooded the market with a pair of them in a week's time.

Speaking as one who witnessed both of them, the writer will attest that they pack a thrill, particularly in the late innings when the crowd seems almost to hold its breath on each pitch. Feller's job on the Yankees yesterday was considerably more impressive than Head's against the Boston Braves.

The odds are against there being another no-hitter this season, even though the campaign is only three weeks old. The last time there were three in a year was in 1938, when Johnny Vandermeer of Cincinnati hurled two in succession and Monte Pearson of the Yanks victimized Cleveland.

Beyond that it is necessary to go clear back to 1917—just before the advent of the lively ball—to find more than two flingers who went nine innings without allowing a hit. In that year seven of them turned the trick, and frequently before that a season would produce four-five or six no-hitters.

The rarest one of all is the "perfect" game, in which a pitcher does not permit an opposing batter to reach first base, faces the minimum of 27 batters. From 1880 until now there have been six such lopaloozals, the last of them pitched in 1922 by Charley Robertson of the Chicago White Sox against Detroit. Others credited with the ultimate feat were Cy Young, Addie Joss, Ernie Shore, John Ward and John Lee Richmond, the latter two in 1880.

Some of the games greatest hurlers, such as Grover Cleveland Alexander and Lefty Grove, never entered the charmed circle. This would indicate that some luck is attached to the feat, considering the number of comparatively undistinguished pitchers who have had their names inscribed in the record book.

Among those who achieved only one no-hitter during their glamorous careers were Carl Hubbell, Walter Johnson, Dazzy Vance, Eddie Cicotte, Rube Marquard, Dutch Leonard and Chief Bender. Manager Mel Ott of the Giants recently said he could recall Hubbell's having pitched several better games than his no-hitter against Pittsburgh in 1929.

Still, it is the dream of every pitcher to notch one of the things sometime during his career.

Kimbrough Signed By Los Angeles Of All-Americans

Los Angeles, May 1 (AP)—John Kimbrough, All-America fullback with Texas A. & M. in 1939 and 1940, today signed a two-year contract to play with the Los Angeles Dons of the All-American Football Conference.

Salary terms were not disclosed by General Manager Slop Madigan of the Dons, who hailed Kimbrough as "probably our most important acquisition."

Kimbrough, 27, was recently discharged as a major from the Army Air Corps after four years' service.

Ben F. Sparks, Age 61, Stricken Here Yesterday

Ben F. Sparks, well known in the Upper Peninsula as a highway and mining engineer, died at 7 o'clock yesterday morning in St. Francis hospital, where he had been a patient since April 23. Death was attributed to a heart ailment. He was 61 years old.

Mr. Sparks received his Bachelor of Science degree in 1907, and his Engineer of Mines degree in 1908 at the Michigan College of Mines at Houghton. He was born July 5, 1884, at Grand Rapids.

Following his graduation he was employed in his profession as a consulting engineer, and later assisted in the organization and was a member of the firm of the Smith-Sparks Construction company. The company engaged in road building and mining work for a number of years in the Upper Peninsula.

In July, 1933, he was appointed Upper Peninsula engineer for the state highway department, in charge of the branch office in Escanaba. He succeeded J. T. Sharpsteen in that office. The change was effective August 1, 1933. He continued his employment with the state highway department until June, 1943, and during the period of the war was coordinator of mines for Michigan. He was also a member of the wartime transportation committee of the Upper Peninsula, for the state council of defense.

Two years prior to his employment by the state highway department he disposed of his interests in the Smith-Sparks company, and for a time was associated with Herman Holmes of Crystal Falls, in the general contracting business.

During the 20 years prior to becoming U. P. highway engineer, Mr. Sparks while in the contracting business built many bridges and many miles of highway in the Upper Peninsula. He was contractor on the first federal trunk-line paved highway in the Upper Peninsula, between Baraga and L'Anse in Baraga county in 1918.

Mr. Sparks was a registered professional mining engineer, having been one of first on the list when the register was established. He was also a member of the American Institute of Mining Engineers, the Lake Superior Institute of Mining Engineers and the Michigan Engineering Society. Fraternally, he was affiliated with the Knights of Columbus and the Elks. His college fraternity was Sigma Rho.

Surviving is a brother, Harry E. Sparks, of Haliburton, Ontario, Canada. The brother is expected to arrive in Escanaba today. Mr. Sparks spent several months last winter visiting his brother in Canada, and returned to Escanaba apparently considerably improved in health.

At the time of his death he was secretary of the Escanaba-Delta county airport authority.

The body will lie in state at the Alto funeral home this evening, and funeral services will be held at 9:15 a. m. Friday at St. Joseph's church, with the Rev. Fr. Alphonse Wilberding officiating. Burial will be at Grand Rapids.
